

Advocacy Day Briefing

[Webinar]

Presented by Jeremy Johannesen, Executive Director, New York Library Association & Rebekkah Smith Aldrich, MHLS Coordinator for Library Sustainability

Target Audience

This event is designed for all library advocates – library directors, staff, trustees, Friends Groups, volunteers and patrons - who are interested in speaking up for libraries during the New York budget negotiation season. Between now and April 1st library advocates have the opportunity to influence a number of key issues such as library aid and state aid for library construction.

Learning Objectives

During this live online webinar we will discuss:

- Budget timeline and pressure points
- Budget & legislative priorities
- Effective talking points
- How, when and where you can speak up for libraries!

Action

Register online at <http://calendar.midhudson.org> for the following session:

Friday, February 17th
10:00 – 11:00am

Log-in information for the webinar will be sent to your email address
24 hours in advance of the event.

Please check our website (<http://midhudson.org/>) for the most up-to-date information about this scheduled event.

Contact person: Rebekkah Smith Aldrich | rsmith@midhudson.org | 854.471.6060 x239