President's Report | May 2021

President's Report – May 2021

Each of the committees have been using the focus on equity, diversity and inclusion in discussions. As you read through the committee reports, you will see how these values are being included in committee goals and work. The EDI work group has continued to focus on the idea that our work must be authentic. That is, if we say we stand for a set of values, the work we do will be representative of these values. Indeed, this is what our board and committees are doing. This is especially true of the work that is being done in developing the next Plan of Service. Please note the minutes from the Executive Committee in which the Plan of Service and the EDI processes are being used as the basis for a full review of the Mission, Vision and Value Statements for MHLS.

The COVID Response & Recovery Work Group will be meeting at the end of May to review our strategies and tactics for moving forward with plans to secure a sustainable financial picture for MHLS. The MHLS board has now established a fund with over $6000 in contributions to serve as the basis for going forward with a campaign to create a fund for sustainability. This fund represents 100% participation by our board members. The COVID work group will be discussing what we have learned from this process, and from our interviews with community partners to frame a campaign message that relates to our goals.

The agenda for May included five reports from Board to Board visits. I cannot remember when we have had this level of activity for Board to Board visits. This is an extremely important duty for each of us so that we continue to learn about how our library members are surviving these times, and what we can do to continue to support their needs. Thank you to all who have actively participate in this endeavor.

In addition to the Board-to-Board visits, MHLS has been surveying all our constituencies, including our board, in regard to priorities for the future. I hope you have seen and participated in this survey. It is one of the tools we use to ensure that the voices of our member libraries, patrons and boards are reflected in our plans for budgets and goals.

There are a significant number of board-trustee trainings planned for the next few months. There are a number of new topics that reflect the need for active discussion regarding the future of libraires. Among the topics are discussion about how we can be more collaborative within and outside our system of libraries. The MHLS staff have already reached out in a number of ways to form new collaborative efforts among our stakeholders. I encourage our board to participate in some of these trainings since these topics will inform how these future goals will impact and expand the impact of MHLS.

Lastly, the financial reports and news from New York State indicate that we are in much better position than earlier this year due to the federal supports received. Thanks to the focus and direction of our executive director and director of finance, we have a stable and positive financial picture. We will be discussing how our financial position will allow for effective investments in the system so MHLS can continue to move forward. While we must be very diligent with our financial decisions, this is the time to plan for our future contingencies and sustainability. We are fortunate to have the leadership of Rebekkah, Saran, Laurie and Casey who, through advocacy and focused planning, have continued to give us (the board and member libraries) the platforms for moving into the future with financial stability.
